Art Unit: 1714

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 1-8 are provisionally rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1 and 3-8 of copending Application No. 10/053074. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the neutral anthraquinone dye of said copending Application No. 10/053074 encompasses the instant neutral anthraquinone dye.

This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection because the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 1-8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Art Unit: 1714

The recited "N-arylaminde" in third line after the formula [II] in claims 1 and 8 is incorrect. The recited "transparent article of claim 5" in claim 7 lacks an antecedent basis. Claim 8 is incorrect since it contains two periods (.) after line 6 and the last line.

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1, 2 and 6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over Weaver et al (US 5,973,038).

Weaver et al teach polymeric compositions containing the instant black colorant formula [II] and molded articles thereof in abstract and at col. 2, lines 11-51 and col. 4, line 65 to col. 5, line 1. The black dye of Weaver et al inherently transmits a laser beam and films of polyester and polyamide containing a small amount such as 1 wt% of said black dye inherently yield transparent articles.

Thus, the instant invention lacks novelty.

Art Unit: 1714

Claims 1, 2, 5 and 6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over Weaver et al (US 5,973,038).

The instant invention further recites employing reinforcing agent.

It would have been obvious to one skilled in the art at the time of invention to utilize reinforcing agent in making molded articles Weaver et al since Weaver et al teach employing other additives at col. 6, lines 1-3 and since the utilization of reinforcing agent such as glass fibers in order to improve mechanical properties of polymeric molded articles is a routine practice in the art.

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. US 2002/0002225 A1 to Reil teaches a black thermoplastic molding composition containing non-black polymer-soluble dyes in abstract and [0024]-[0026].
